IN QUEBEC BRIDGE WRECK

Victims Still Held in The Meshwork of Iron Girders—Inquest Will be Completed
Today.

Quebec, Aug. 31.—Although thirty-six hours have elapsed since the Quebec bridge crashed into the St. Lawrence, the three scores of dead bridgeworkers are still held in the meshwork of debris at the bottom of the river. A roll call held yesterday afternoon confirmed the early estimates of the loss of life. seventy-nine men failed to answer to their names and were not among the injured at the Levis hospital. Fifteen bodies lie at the morgue awaiting the results of the coroner's inquest. Of the total of 79 dead or missing 16 were killed. American mechanics brought here by the Phoenix Bridge company of Phoenixville, Pa., to work on the structural steel parts of the bridge.

Some of the bodies of the unfortunate men can be seen from the surface of the water tightly wedged in an inextinguishable network of steel, where it is utterly impossible to reach them. Although tugs, rowboats and rafts were used throughout the day to patrol the river under the wrecked bridge the result of all their work was the recovery of only one body, at low tide last evening. The victim was almost cut in two and his body was taken out in two parts. Another body was located near the anchor pier and an effort was made to remove it but it was found that the whole lower part of the body was held in a grip of steel that it was impossible to break. The body was found to be female.

Man Formerly Employed on the Bridge
Had a Dream It Had Fallen.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 31.—Edward Hutton, an iron worker of this city, who worked on the bridge in Quebec for a time last spring said yesterday that about a month ago he dreamed that this very bridge had fallen. He says that the dream so impressed him that he wrote to a bridge worker named Edward Little of this city and told him of the impression he had received and in consequence Mr. Little says that he and his side partner threw their work and went elsewhere.

MINISTERS' UNION EXPELLED.

Labor Men of LaCrosse Wont Have It in Labor Day Parades.

LaCrosse, Wis., Aug. 31.—The Ministers' Union, organized only a few weeks ago and soon affiliated with the trades and labor assembly, the supreme labor body in LaCrosse, was officially cast out yesterday by that body and refused permission to march in the labor day parade. The action was the result of complaints by brewery workers, who asserted that recent agitation against saloons resulted in injury to the brewery workers' union. The city labor body decided that the crusade by religious workers was to the harm of their fellow unionists and the official casting out followed.

PITTSBURG GIRL'S
RUNAWAY MATCHDaughter of Baron Weds Mill Employee —Bride Is Only 15—Mother Almost Prostrated.

Pittsburg, Aug. 31.—Alma von Hedemann, daughter of the late Baron Fritz von Hedemann and niece of Alexander von Humboldt, who has just passed her fifteenth birthday, eloped yesterday to Youngstown, Ohio, with Frank Haines, aged twenty-one, who is employed in one of the South Side mills.

Baron von Hedemann came here from Germany with his wife in 1873, after having had some trouble with his family and has since lived on Duquesne Heights. Fifteen years ago a daughter was born to them. Von Hedemann dropped his title soon after coming here, and was known merely as Fritz von Hedemann. Several years ago the baron died, and his wife and daughter have been living on a slender income they received from Germany.

Young Haines began paying attention to the young German girl some time ago. His suit was discouraged by Mrs. von Hedemann, not only on account of the age of her daughter, but also because she expected to take her abroad and make a match for her such as she considered befitting her station in life.

Thursday morning Alma was allowed to attend a Sunday school picnic at Rock Point with a number of her young friends. In the afternoon a telegram was received from Youngstown from Alma in which she informed her mother that she and Haines had been married at that place and were staying at the Empire hotel.

Mrs. von Hedemann was almost prostrated by the announcement, and she will have the marriage annulled.

CROWD MOBS HOSPITAL
TRYING TO GET AUTOISTSeveral Thousand Roused to Fury By Running Down of Little Girl.

New York, Aug. 31.—Screaming maledictions and throwing stones and missiles, a mob of several thousand stormed the main entrance of Bellevue hospital in an attempt to reach and attack Andrew L. Bender, of No. 114 Washington street, Tarrytown, N. Y., who a few moments before in his automobile had run over and seriously injured thirteen year old Annie Nieman of No. 404 East Twenty-fourth street.

Bender, in a big touring car, was crossing Twenty-fourth street at Second avenue when Annie ran in front of his machine. She had been hidden by a wagon, and though Bender threw on the brakes it was too late and the front wheel of the car struck the little girl, knocking her down.

Bringing the car to a standstill Bender alighted, as did two dressed women, who were in the automobile. Bender ran to the side of the injured girl, but without giving her a glance the two women from the car hurried away and boarded a north bound Second avenue car.

The street was crowded and the sight of the injured girl roused the onlookers to fury. The child's father rushed to the spot in time to see Bender, ignoring the crowd, pick the little girl up in his arms, lay her on the rear seat of the car and then spring in himself.

Misunderstanding the action of the chauffeur, the father of the girl screamed "kidnaper." The cry was taken up and there was a wild charge after Bender's machine, which was already speeding toward Bellevue hospital.

Seeing the mob was after him and not understanding the cause, Bender threw on more power and shot away, arriving at the gate of the hospital far ahead of the mob. The gate keeper closed the gate in the rear.

The crowd surged against the gate which is of iron. Those in front, pushed against the iron by those behind, could hardly breathe, but kept insisting that they be admitted to the enclosure into which Bender had rushed. Those not so near the gate picked up stones and refused to let the street and began throwing the stuff at the windows of the hospital, screaming out threats against the chauffeur.

MOROCCO MUST PAY THE COST.

France Will Exact Reimbursement of Expenses of Military and Naval Action.

Paris, Aug. 31.—The report that France intends to insist that Morocco shall pay the heavy expenses resulting from French military and naval action in the latter country appears correct. Germany, Great Britain and other powers in the street are endeavoring to sympathize with France's attitude. It is stated that the other powers intend to demand payment for losses sustained by their subjects in Morocco.

The French cruiser Desaix, which is due to arrive at Tanger Sunday, was sent there as a result of an interview between the British Ambassador here, Sir Francis Bertie, and Premier Clemenceau, yesterday, during which the ambassador pointed out the dangerous position of Europeans in Tangier.

According to the latest advices received from Casablanca the French losses at the fighting last night August 29 were three men killed and 12 wounded. The killed included a cavalryman of the Algerian horse, whose head was carried off by the Moors. The enemy's loss is believed to have been heavy.

FREIGHT WRECK
AT BETHELAccident on Central Last Night About 11

LOCOMOTIVE IN DITCH

Bottom Side Up—Ten or More Cars Demolished—Three Men Who Went Down With Locomotive Escaped Injury.

Bethel, Aug. 31.—The freight train due here about 11 o'clock last night ran into the Central wrecking train about a half mile above here, and locomotive 411 was thrown from the track, down the 10-foot embankment into a mud pond, bottom up. Three men went down with the locomotive, but all escaped, the engineer only being injured, and he but slightly. The wrecking train was at work trying to get a car on the track that went off the rails on Thursday, and how the accident occurred is a mystery. The place of the accident is almost in a narrow cut and when the freight ran into the wrecking train the impact was so great and it brought the cars together with such force that ten or twelve of them were practically demolished.

The accident occurred at such an hour as to hold up the night train south and the night mail north. At 8 o'clock this morning, however, the passengers on each train were transferred around the wreck and were carried on their way. It is the hope of the railroad officials to have the track cleared by noon today.

TO STOP "WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC."

Special Woman Inspector Appointed at Suggestion of Commissioner.

Washington, Aug. 31.—A systematic effort is to be made by the bureau of immigration to put an end to what is popularly known as the "white slave traffic," which, it is asserted, has been conducted especially in cities on the Atlantic seaboard for a long time. On recommendation of Robert Watchorn, immigration commissioner at Ellis Island, N. Y., Miss Helen M. Bullis has been appointed an immigration inspector for the particular purpose of detecting information regarding this traffic. Miss Bullis recently has been connected with the travelers' aid society, and has done much work along sociological lines. Commissioner Watchorn says that, despite precautions, many women of non-English speaking races are being imported for immoral purposes. The immigration officials hope to be able not only to deport those who have brought unlawfully into this country, but also to punish those who are responsible for this sort of immigration.

Afterward he sat for photographs at a studio and later visited the factory of the Westinghouse Electric company and the Singer Sewing Machine company. HOLD-UP ON THE CREEK ROAD.

Harry Learn Knocked Down and Badly Bruised By Two Men.

Rutland, Aug. 31.—While on his way home from this city late Wednesday evening, Harry Learn, a farm hand employed on the Maple Grove farm on the Creek road was attacked by two unknown men and severely bruised about the face. According to Learn's story the men met him near the Dunn farm and asked for some tobacco. Upon being told that he did not have any they asked for matches and money. Learn explained to the men that he had left all his money at home when he changed his clothes.

One of the men then grabbed him and threw him down. He got up and knocked his man down but was seized by the other. After a short scuffle during which his eye was blackened, his face badly bruised and his shirt torn off Learn succeeded in freeing himself and ran home.

As he is able to tell the men were about 45 years old and of medium height, one being a little taller than the other. Learn was so badly bruised that he will be unable to work for some time. The matter was not reported to the police and is thought to be the work of crooks who travel with the circus.

SWINDLER IN RUTLAND.

Claimed He Was Soliciting Advice-ments for Labor Day.

Rutland, Aug. 31.—A swindler who claimed that he represented local labor organizations and that he was soliciting advertisements for a souvenir program to be issued labor day, succeeded in pulling wool over the eyes of at least two Rutland business men yesterday. From one he took two dollars and from another two fifty. The matter has been reported to the police and up to a late hour this afternoon the swindler had not been arrested. A prominent labor man said late this afternoon that merchants should be informed of the fact that a law was passed two years ago making it illegal for any organization affiliated with the American Federation of Labor to issue souvenir programs of any kind, under a penalty of the loss of their charter.

Turner, Me., Aug. 31.—The summer sea-serpent has been outdone and the visitors at this little resort have just been treated to a real water-spout, ten feet in breadth and 60 feet high and today even the oldest inhabitants admitted that he never saw anything like it. The great cause was first noticed at the further end of Little Porcupine Lake moving along at lightning speed. Fred Cole, the twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cole of this place, was out boating and was right in the path of the spout. The boat was hurled into the air, but the youngster managed to swim ashore although half dazed when he got in.

Cotton Mills Rushed With Work.

Killingly, Conn., Aug. 31.—A canvass of the cotton mills of northeastern Connecticut showed that every one is rushed with orders, and that but for the setback given by the drought the mills would now be working night and day. There is a fair supply of competent help, but in no place a surplus. In the fall the mills will be run overtime. Orders for cotton fabrics have been to come in almost record amounts during the last fortnight.

Took a Day to Haul the Money Taken at The Addison County Fair.

Middlebury, Aug. 31.—Yesterday was the fourth and last day of the 63rd annual fair of Addison county and again there was a great crowd in spite of the threatening weather which prevailed all the morning. When the races commenced it was estimated that there was from 10,000 to 12,000 people on the grounds. Among them were several hundred school children, being children's day and admission for them being free. The attendance for the first three days has exceeded, at a moderate estimate, 45,000.

There was only one general event on the morning program, a game of ball between Rutland city and Middlebury town teams. This feature attracted the greater part of the crowd, but was interesting only in spots.

Rain yesterday afternoon rendered the track heavy, but the crowd was pleased that the races were pulled off just the same. Herbert A. Rugg of Barre demonstrated himself an efficient starter and kept everything moving in his line.
